Conference Overview

K J Somaiya Institute of Management is hosting its annual international multidisciplinary conference from 8th Jan to 10th Jan 2025, the theme being 'Purpose-driven Leadership – Disruptions and Sustainability Imperatives'. The 3-day symposium aims to bring together academic and industry professionals from around the globe and offers many opportunities for professional contact, development, and networking.

The story unfolding for tomorrow is laden with the uncertainties of environmental crises, social inequality, economic volatility, and technological disruptions and interspersed with constant calls for sustainable efforts. The COVID-19 pandemic in the past and the global events in the geo-political scenario in the present have shown how business operations can get destabilized and lead to distress and conflicts without any warning. On the other hand, disruptive technologies are poised to transform life, business, and the global economy according to a McKinsey report. The boards and leadership teams have become more aware of the fact that to maintain long-term financial, social, and talent sustainability, a shift toward stakeholder capitalism rather than shareholder capitalism is necessary. All in all, these unplanned events, disruptions, and imperatives highlight the importance of enterprise management and sustainability, the economic opportunities and stability that come with it, and the leadership that can drive it.

The challenges are daunting and require leaders of groups and establishments to acknowledge the current situation, accept the difficulties, oversee their establishments, and intensify their endeavors for collective progress and purposes beyond bottom-line performance. It is expected of organizations to go deep within and discover, articulate, and embody their purpose. Leadership with a purpose is more important now than ever.

To contribute towards a better future, we intend to offer a platform, and a learning ecosystem for the participants of the conference to present their research, discuss, debate, reflect on, and develop their ideas and thoughts cutting across various areas of management.
